

CINCINNATI C.P.P.S. NEWSLETTER

*For stories brought to you by the Cincinnati
Children's Hospital Medical Center
Department of Psychiatry
September 2014*

Be the Light. Be a Light. Be.

Renewal Center Offers Healing and Hope

Renewal Center is a place where healing and hope are found. It is a place where people can find the strength to overcome their challenges and live a life of purpose and meaning.

Healing

Renewal Center is a place where healing and hope are found. It is a place where people can find the strength to overcome their challenges and live a life of purpose and meaning. The center offers a variety of programs and services designed to help people heal and find hope.

Through its many programs, the center offers a variety of services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups.

The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

Renewal Center is a place where healing and hope are found. It is a place where people can find the strength to overcome their challenges and live a life of purpose and meaning.

The center offers a variety of programs and services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups.

Through its many programs, the center offers a variety of services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups.

The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

Through its many programs, the center offers a variety of services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups.

The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope. The center offers a variety of programs and services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups. Through its many programs, the center offers a variety of services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups. The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

The Renewal Center is a place where healing and hope are found. It is a place where people can find the strength to overcome their challenges and live a life of purpose and meaning.

Renewal Center is a place where healing and hope are found. It is a place where people can find the strength to overcome their challenges and live a life of purpose and meaning. The center offers a variety of programs and services designed to help people heal and find hope.

Through its many programs, the center offers a variety of services designed to help people heal and find hope. These services include individual counseling, group therapy, and support groups. The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

The center also offers a variety of other services, including case management, crisis intervention, and referrals to other community resources. The center is committed to providing a comprehensive range of services to help people heal and find hope.

To learn more about the Renewal Center, visit our website at www.renewalcenter.org or call us at 513-633-1111.